

Lincoln Park Zoo

Lincoln Park Zoo is a 35 acre large zoo located in Lincoln Park in Chicago. It was founded in 1868 and is one of the oldest zoos in all of North America. It is also one of the few admission free zoos in the United States and is open all year long.

It is an accredited member of the Association of Zoos and Aquariums (AZA). It counts around 1,100 animals in the zoo with around 200 different species. As you can see it has a wide variety of animals that includes big cats, polar bears, penguins, gorillas, reptiles and monkeys.

Its mission is to dedicate the people to nature by providing a free exhibit for people to look at. It is privately managed and mainly depends on the support of its visitors, members and donors.
